Nine Men's Misery

Nine men escaped the deadly ambush of Captain Pierce's men in near by Central Falls only to be captured and slaughtered by Native Americans Loyal to King Phillip, Chief of the Wampanoag Tribe. The Cistercian Monks found a stone cairn at this spot where the settlers are believed to have buried the nine men found tortured and killed at this spot. The Monks replaced the found stone cairn with a stone and mortar cairn made with the original stones in 1928. The same year the State of Rhode Island also erected a concrete pier with a brass plaque which reads "Nine Men's Misery - on this spot where they were slain by the Indians were buried the nine soldiers captured in Pierce's Fight March 26, 1676"
